https://www.congress.gov/bill/119th-congress/house-resolution/537/text

House Resolution 537 (H.Res.537) of the 119th Congress is a formal resolution aimed at impeaching Donald J. Trump, President of the United States, for high crimes and misdemeanors, specifically focused on abuse of presidential powers by disregarding the separation of powers and unconstitutionally usurping Congress's power to declare war.

Core Details of H.Res.537

- The resolution was introduced by Rep. Al Green of Texas on June 24, 2025.
- The impeachment article centers on President Trump's order for U.S. military attacks on Iran (targeting Fordow, Natanz, and Estahan nuclear sites), announced via Truth Social on June 21, 2025.
- The resolution alleges that Trump's actions lacked congressionally mandated authorization and bypassed required notification to congressional leaders, while foreign leaders received advance notice of the attack.
- It claims these unilateral military actions, with no imminent threat to the U.S., constituted abuse of power and the erosion of American democracy into authoritarianism.

Article I: Abuse of Presidential Powers

- Trump is accused of violating Article I, Section 8, Clause 11 of the U.S. Constitution, which grants Congress the sole power to declare war.
- The resolution asserts that these actions directly contravened the Constitution's War Powers Clause and the intent of the Framers to prevent any single individual from unilaterally taking the country to war.
- Additional claims include Trump's past instigation of an attack on the U.S. Capitol, intent to deny due process, and calls for impeachment of judges who ruled against him, further labeling him a threat to democracy.

Status of Legislation

- The bill was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary and subsequently laid on the table in the House as of June 24, 2025.

Every major point and claim above is drawn directly from the official bill text and legislative summary.